

Driving the Change of Governance System

International Association to Change the World

MANIFESTO FOR THE INDEPENDENCE OF THE SOCIAL SECTOR

Being today the 70th anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and with the aim of defending them, in the International Association to Change The World we publish this Manifesto with the aim of raising awareness about the serious danger of maintaining the current control and corruption of the social sector , by the public sector.

The macro-State is the most dangerous invention of Humanity, even more than the secondary financial market or the atomic bomb.

Systemic corruption has led Western societies, their institutions and international institutions, to be declining, that is, to make current generations of young people live worse than their parents, for structural reasons.

On the contrary, the characteristics of the social sector - market rules but not for profit - make it suitable to replace the public sector and ensure the progress of Humanity, guaranteeing human rights (see our Charter of principles).

However, public sector is corrupting social sector in different ways, among others:

- Controlling non-profit organizations (NPOs), legally and administratively.
- Using public money to subsidize / bribe private NPOs in exchange of obedience and to favor the public sector.
- Creating large NPOs that pervert the sector, altering the rules of the market.

For all of the above, it is necessary to make the social sector independent from the public sector, in order to eliminate systemic corruption before the social sector replaces the public sector. Legal, administrative and financial independence.
